

Mr George Rose- Fusiliers leave for Korea

“...Well, my father was quite pleased I think, ‘cos my mother... I’m told she worried but I didn’t know that. They say she worried, women do [chuckles]...”

...My father was quite proud as he’d been in the First War and before we went to Korea we had a big parade in London. The whole Battalion marched through London, ‘cos it’s the City of London Regiment. My father came out and watched it, I know that...”
